

PORTABLE INTERNET SERVER TERMINAL
ABSTRACT

5 A data terminal includes a digital camera for capturing an image and data processing/storage/encoding means for processing the image information, together with an internal server for creating a web site at the terminal displaying the image. As a result high 10 resolution image information is immediately accessible to authorised users and instantly recorded.